I found a good school with a swimming pool and swimming team nearby. New Zealand is also a quiet, beautiful country where I had many new experiences.

Friendly teachers and the completely different way of studying compared to Italian schools such as changing class for every subject. I enjoyed that.

I enjoyed living with a New Zealand host family because my host parents introduced me to a new culture and helped me when I needed a guide.

New Zealand is a great place to learn English and to have new experiences. People are really friendly and always willing to help.
